Codebook The SOM Institute Cumulative Dataset 1986-2024

INTRODUCTION

The SOM Institute Cumulative Dataset contains data from the National SOM study, an annually repeated cross-sectional self-administered mail survey conducted in Sweden since 1986 (for further information see Scope & Coverage). The data contains a selection of questions frequently asked over the years, focusing on time series. A general rule is that questions should have been asked at least three times.

INSTRUCTIONS

The dataset follows a thematic scheme with comprehensive main themes and more specific sub-themes (se page iv). Variables are named according to the following structure: the first letter denotes the main theme, the second letter denotes the sub-theme, followed by a number denoting the question battery in which the item is found, a third set of letters denotes the item.

This codebook contains information about question wording, which year a specific item has been asked, and information about how variables are recoded, when applicable. It might also include information regarding changed item wording and references to similar items. If no additional information is available (currently in the "Definition" field), the given information applies to every year.

For further information regarding response rates, fieldwork and other methodological considerations, see the methodological section in the annual report (in Swedish: https://www.gu.se/som-institutet/som-undersokningarna/metod-0).

CONCEPTS

Battery: A set of items with the same overall question and response alternatives.

Constructed variables: Variables constructed, using information collected from one or, in most cases, several items, questions or population register. Most commonly, response categories are collapsed into fewer response categories/alternatives.

Close-ended questions/multiple choice: (As opposed to open-ended questions) A question asked with a predefined set of response alternatives, which in most cases are mutually exclusive.

ip: Respondent (ip is an acronym of the Swedish word intervjuperson - interviewees, i.e. respondents).

Item: A single question in a battery.

National 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7: Since 1998, the SOM study is carried out through several parallel surveys (two between 1998-2008, three between 2009-2011, four since 2012, five since 2014, six since 2016 and seven since 2021.

Open-ended question: A question requiring a free-text answer.

MISSING CODES

96 (996/9996): Missing code denoting questions that are not asked in a specific questionnaire edition.

97 (997/9997): Missing code denoting nonresponse for a single item in a battery.

98 (998/9998): Missing code denoting that several responses was given by the respondent to a question where only one response was required.

99 (999/9999): Missing code denoting nonresponse for an entire question battery or a single question.

Response rates National SOM:

Comments: SOM standard net response rates excludes respondents who are long-term ill or disabled, living abroad or travelling, who are non-Swedish-speaking, deceased or have an unknown address or moved. Gross rates include all individuals in the originally drawn sample in the calculation.

The SOM Institute Cumulative Data Set 1986-2024

Overview

| | |
|---|---|
| Identification | v2025.1 |

Abstract
In order to identify how the evolution of society affects Swedes' attitudes and behaviour, the SOM Institute started its National SOM study in 1986. National SOM addresses three areas – society, opinions and mass media. The survey covers questions related to politics, society, media and social background. Every year, the questionnaires are complemented with questions related to current events. The survey is nationally representative. The field work starts in mid-September each year and, following a series of reminders distributed via post and text messages, ends in January of the following year.

# occupation1986: Occupation (Swedish National Election Studies occupational codes)

| Information | [Type= discrete] [Format=numeric] [Range= 0-999] [Missing=*] |
| Statistics [NW/ W] | [Valid=49069 /-] [Invalid=154136 /-] |
| Definition | Open question. Coded using the Swedish National Election Studies occupational coding scheme. The triple digit code has the following logic: the two first digits shows the line of business and the third shows the "rank". If the stated occupation is ambiguous, the response is compared with certain background variables (e.g. education, occupational group and labor union). Note that the Swedish National Election Studies occupational coding scheme and the Swedish Standard Classification of Occupations (ssyk) both were used in 2005. Since 2006, only the latter has been used. |

# ssyk: Occupation (Swedish Standard Classification of Occupations)

| | |
|---|---|
| Information | [Type= discrete] [Format=numeric] [Range= 0-9999] [Missing=*] |
| Statistics [NW/ W] | [Valid=157630 /-] [Invalid=45575 /-] |
| Definition | Open question. Coded using Statistics Sweden's Swedish Standard Classification of Occupations (SSYK). The coding scheme organise occupations hierarchically using a four-digit code. It is based on two main concepts: the concept of kind of work performed - defined as a set of tasks or duties designed to be executed by one person - and the concept of skill, defined as the skill level - the degree of complexity of constituent tasks - and skill specialisation - the field of knowledge required for competent performance of the constituent tasks. The first digit shows the major branch of occuption (e.g. 4=Clerks), the second digit main subcategory (e.g. 42=Customer services clerks), the third show occupational group (e.g. 421=Cashiers, tellers and related clerks) and the fourth concerns occupational subgroup (e.g. 4212=Tellers and other counter clerks). If the stated occupation is ambiguous, the response is compared with certain background variables (e.g. education, occupational group and labor union).The question wording has changed. 2005 (National): "What is/was your occupation?"; 2006- (National): "What is/was your main occupation? (If you are not currently working, please state your latest occupation)".Note that the Swedish National Election Studies occupational coding scheme and the Swedish Standard Classification of Occupations (ssyk) both were used in 2005. Since 2006, only the latter has been used. |
| Literal question | What is/was your main occupation? (If you are not currently working, please state your latest occupation) |
